

HODGENVILLE

Gaining an Unenviable Reputation Through Welcoming Bigotry.

Sides With A. P. A. Soap Box Orator Against Respected Citizen.

Aid of Menace Invoked by Baptist Minister Subscription Solicitor.

EXPLAINS THAT TOWN'S DECLINE

Several weeks ago an itinerant A. P. A. preacher, named Rev. William Roberts, and traveling under the guise of a Salvation Army worker, that is using a uniform as near that as possible without being arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses, was the center of quite a little discussion and interest. In the neighborhood of Hodgenville, New Haven and other surrounding points, his advent, as is frequently the case, stirring up much religious hatred and bigotry. Roberts' first appearance was at New Haven, where in a house to house collection he obtained a little money from persons who were under the impression that they were contributing to the Salvation Army, his cap appearing the same as that worn by workers of that organization, but on close inspection it was found that it read "Independent Religious and Temperance Worker," which proves conclusively that Roberts was a fakir, as there is no organization of that name and the only truth in the label was the word "worker," as he worked several unsuspecting persons and suckers for the benefit of his own pocket. Temperance workers as a rule are inclined to water, but Roberts didn't seem to favor that plank in the temperance platform, even from a tolet standpoint, as he appeared sadly in need of a bath.

From New Haven this tramp A. P. A. evangelist journeyed to Hodgenville, where it seemed he discovered more fertile fields. In other words there were more easy marks or bigots in the latter place, and judging from subsequent events it appears as if there were more bigots. In one of his daily soap box baragances, in which he was denouncing the Catholics in general, saying that they were a disgrace to the American flag and that everyone of them had a yellow streak up his back, attention of D. E. Riney, a prominent citizen and Catholic, was called by a Protestant gentleman coming into his place of business and statig that "There is a fellow in front of your door denouncing all Catholics." Mr. Riney edged into the crowd and after hearing a few of the derogatory remarks and insults, grabbed Roberts by the back of the neck and, delivering a few well placed kicks, warned him to leave town. At this juncture Rev. H. S. Bell, a Baptist minister of Lebanon, formerly of Buffalo, interfered and took sides with Roberts and later on was instrumental in having warrants sworn out for Mr. Riney and Lee Cundy, charging them with disturbance of public worship, and in a Police Court trial Riney was fined $40 and costs and Cundy $15 and costs, both pleading guilty to the charge. The Larue County Herald, published at Hodgenville, took sides with Roberts, the curate, preacher, against Mr. Riney, a substantial business man, the Herald stating that public sentiment was against Riney very strong and that there was a movement in foot to punish the offenders further. The sentiment of the Herald seems to be the favorite opinion of the majority of those in the settlement and it is rumored an attempt is being made to boycott Mr. Riney's place of business.

Since the above the Rev. Bell enlisted the services of the Menace. In a letter enclosing the names of seven subscribers Bell details the story of the Hodgenville episode, and to prejudge that filthy lying sheet in favor of the traveling A. P. A. orator stated that Riney assaulted Roberts because of the latter's remarks in favor of the Menace. Bell also stated that Riney was a Catholic of the bigoted type, which is smug, coming from a man like Bell, who espouses the cause of a traveling fakir, whose sermons consist of bigotry and are delivered for the purpose of separating gullible bigots from their loose coin.

From this angle it seems as if the sympathy of every fair minded citizen should be with Mr. Riney, regardless of the religious controversy introduced, and the fact that bigotry holds a chief place in the town of Hodgenville and that the majority favor abuse and vilification of their fellow citizens and taxpayers explains in the public at large why Hodgenville has decreased in population from 825 in 1900 to 744 in the census of 1910.

SUMMER SCHOOL.

The remarkable activity in all lines of summer school life which characterized the stay of His Excellency the Most Rev. John Bonzino, D. D., Apostolic Delegate, at Cliff Haven during the past week was followed by a brief period of rest after his departure. This period was broken on Sunday evening, by the annual summer school concert and thereafter through the week a continuous programme of social events made bright the passing hours. The beautiful weather conditions which prevailed at Cliff Haven was an incentive to vacationists to take part in the more vigorous forms of outdoor life. The result was that many of the tournaments which had been postponed from earlier in the season on account of the hot weather were played off. The ladies' golf tournament for the Conway challenge cup was won by Miss Margaret Thornton, and the men's tennis doubles was won by Edward Westhead and William Doherty. The lectures courses during the week were conducted by Arthur F. J. Remy, Ph. D., of Columbia University, New York, the Rev. Daniel J. Carney, of Melrose, Mass., and Miss Eleanor Payz, of Brooklyn.

CORNERSTONE LAYING.

With beautifully impressive ceremonies and in the presence of hundreds of people the cornerstone of the addition to St. Joseph's parochial school, Adams and Washington streets, was laid Sunday afternoon by the Right Rev. Bishop O'Donaghue, assisted by a number of the local clergy. The Rev. Alexander Wilberding, pastor of St. Joseph's, acted as master of ceremonies, and the sermon, "What the Parochial School Staads For," was delivered by the Rev. Constantine Staads, pastor of St. Peter Claver's church. The exercises began at 4 o'clock when the acolytes, priests and Bishop filed out of the sacristy of the church and on to the foundations of the school. After the stone had been laid solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament was given in the church. Father Wilberding then entertained Bishop O'Donaghue and visiting priests at dinner in the rectory. The new building, which is a wing of the old parochial school, will have two stories and a large basement. It will be built of concrete, steel and brick and of fireproof construction, and will cost $18,000.

CATHOLIC FEDERATION.

The August meeting of the local Catholic Federation was well attended despite the sweltering weather that prevailed. President Ganz not having returned from the national convention at Milwaukee, the chair was occupied by Vice President David O'Connell. Attorney Benedict Elder made a brief statement of the work of his special committee and announced that the hooks treating on the evils of Socialism were ready for distribution. These books come in sets of six and each organization represented in the federation will receive a set to be read at their meetings. Upon the suggestion of Attorney L. J. Mackey consideration of the new by-laws was deferred until the reports of the national convention were received. John Doyle, Patrick Weir and others gave expression to some excellent thoughts for the benefit of federation, after which Col. H. A. Vonderheide delivered one of the best addresses yet heard on the subject of Catholic unity. There was a round of applause when a telegram from T. Burke, of this city, as Grand President at the Atlantic jurisdiction, Y. M. I. convention at Pittsburgh. Several matters were referred to the September meeting, which will be an important one.

CHURCH OF OUR LADY.

One of the most important and enjoyable events to be held in Portland this season will be the monster fete champêtre to be held on the grounds of the Church of Our Lady, Thirty-fifth and Rudd avenue, next Tuesday and Wednesday, both afternoon and evening. The United acolytes of the parish are assisting the pastor, Rev. Father Conniff, to make this one of the most interesting lawn fêtes ever held. The beautiful church grounds will be beautifully decorated and illuminated for the occasion. Various amusements have been arranged for and the young ladies of the parish will preside at the tables and serve refreshments. The Church of Our Lady has passed through three floods, but still remains perfectly intact, and the pastor and his people are eagerly looking forward to meeting their friends on one of the two nights, when they will certainly be well treated and entertained.

CATHOLIC KNIGHTS' EXCURSION.

Under the auspices of the Central Committee, Catholic Knights of America, there will be an excursion over the Southern railway to Jasper, Ind., on Sunday, August 31, and it promises to be one of the largest that ever left this city. Ben Kruse and committee of the central body have perfect every detail for a safe and pleasant day, and Capt. Kunkel and the Catholics of Jasper promise a cordial reception for the excursionists. As a compliment to the Catholic Knights it is expected that at least three Knights of St. John commanders will make the trip. A feature will be the prison baseball game between Kruse's Highlanders, all Irish, and Kunkel's Jaspers, all Germans, to be played on the Jasper College athletic field. This will be the last excursion of the season, and promises to surpass all others. The round trip tickets will be only $1.50, children half fare.

TAKE EASTERN TRIP.

Clyde Graven, of the Louisville Grocery Company, and Henry Nitzen, Deputy Circuit Court Clerk, are making an extended trip through the East and will visit New York, Washington, Philadelphia, Old Point Comfort, Atlantic City and other points of interest. Nitzen will visit offices of court clerks while in the larger cities to the Eastern methods in handling and filling suits.

NOBLE STAND

Taken by Honorary President of the Catholic Women's League.

The Feminist Movement Leaders Hold Views Decidedly Pagan.

Grant Demands and Christian Family Would Cease to Exist.

THINGS WOMEN SHOULD REALIZE

"The Feminist movement is being promoted by women whose views are decidedly pagan. If their demands were to be realized the Christian family would cease to exist and women's condition would lapse into paganism."

The above is the opinion of Mrs. Joseph Frey, Honorary President of the Catholic Women's League, which was formed recently at Buffalo as an auxiliary to the German Roman Catholic Central Verela. There is no little probability that Mrs. Frey has observed accurately present day tendencies and stated frankly and truthfully her convictions about the character of the more prominent leaders in the widespread movement: euphoniously styled the fuller emancipation of women. The question, as to what is her sphere in life, has no doubt been considerably obscured of late by the insistent demands of some of the sex for what they are pleased to believe are rights. Woman suffrage is not the only matter concerned in this movement. We believe that this is bound to come and some time in the near future; as far as Catholics are concerned, the church has issued no definite pronouncement on this topic, and in places where the privilege of voting has been granted equally to both sexes members of the hierarchy have encouraged women to make use of the ballot. With reference, however, to some other subjects, and especially those that affect matrimonial relations and social conditions, all Christians, irrespective of creed, should entertain the same views as does Mrs. Frey.

Much of the degradation and debasement brought upon the most sacred of contracts is due in a small part to the influence of the irreligious and pagan instincts and practices of woman without faith. These more than others have robbed matrimony of the character given it by our Blessed Lord, and preserved it for by his church. If the stage and the street, the dance hall and the bathing beach, the salon and the school room present spectacles at times repulsive and indecent, upon whom rests the blame? If conditions are more deplorable now in certain quarters than they have ever been before in the memory of man, to whom are they attributable? If there is widespread criticism on the part of those who still retain a few shreds of decency, because of carnality in song, dance and dress, who have been the chief offenders in the country saw approach with panic the inevitable election with the equally inevitable defeat. This being all passed away, Lloyd-George, fully restored to health and popularity, has already succeeded in working up the masses to feverish hope and expectations of new land legislation.

This session ends in almost a note of triumph. For some weeks politics will be silent owing to the absence of all politicians, and even the difficult and outstanding problems of the Eastern question can not keep the Foreign Ministers and Ambassadors from taking a rest. This largely accounts for a cessation even in Austria and Russia of the ardent campaign for a revision of the Bucarest treaty, and the treaty will be the resignation rather than the acceptance of all Europe, which is so tired that it can not work or quarrel any more.

The action of the British Foreign Office in refusing representation at the San Francisco Exposition is regarded with mixed feelings, especially among the Liberals and the Irish. It is quite true that the impulse for such a refusal does not come from Panama, but from the unwillingness of British manufacturers to send goods such a long distance at such expense and with what they claim are such problematical results. It appears that the desire to increase trade by international exhibitions has rather died out in England. Another explanation of the attitude of English manufacturers is that trade is so extraordinary brisk at this moment that they grudge any division of time, energy or money to anything but filling their orders, many of them in great arrears. Finally a quarter of a million pounds sterling seems large in comparison with the sum voted by Washington. There are real reasons from a pure business point of view and business men approve the attitude of the Government.

But all the same men political hold that though business reasons thus can he offered for the position of the Foreign Office, the sum of a quarter of a million, though large, is worth sacrificing rather than give the appearance that England is sulking over Panama. The desire to avoid any such misunderstanding may suggest some compromise later on, such as a Governmental exhibit of products of the British empire, but such a project has not gone beyond mere suggestion by unofficial Liberals as yet.

he having enjoyed the confidence of Wilbur F. Storey, the picturesque editor of the Chicago Times, who employed him following his term as a Congressman at Washington. Col. Finerty followed the campaign of Gen. Custer against Sitting Bull and wrote the story of the Indian's capture by the Canadian mounted police near Maple Creek, Sask. Returning to Chicago after the Indian uprisings, Col. Finerty resumed active journalism and later edited the Citizen, the organ of the Irish-American home rule forces. He enjoyed the friendship of such men as Charles Stewart Parnell, John Dillon, Michael Davitt and contemporaneous characters who fought the battle for Irish liberty until Gladstone gave his powerful recognition to the cause.

PARLIAMENT

Ends Session With Ministry in a Stronger and Better Position.

Liberals Weather Storm of Moral Scandal and Retain Control.

Reasons For Refusal to Exhibit at Coming San Francisco Exposition.

POLITICS WILL BE GIVEN A REST

Hon. T. P. O'Connor, M. P., reviewing the political situation in England, cables that the end of the Parliamentary session leaves the Liberal Ministry in as strong a position as at the beginning, and much stronger than some weeks ago.

There were some moments so awkward during the cyclone of the Marconi scandal that even the most sanguine supporters of the Government felt that the whole game was up and that some lacerations, however innocent, were going to drag down a powerful Ministry and several great men. During this terrible time Lloyd-George, the most active and popular force in the Liberal ranks, was paralyzed, silent and nervous, and grew daily thinner, paler and older, while the Liberals in the country saw approach with panic the inevitable election with the equally inevitable defeat. This being all passed away, Lloyd-George, fully restored to health and popularity, has already succeeded in working up the masses to feverish hope and expectations of new land legislation.

This session ends in almost a note of triumph. For some weeks politics will be silent owing to the absence of all politicians, and even the difficult and outstanding problems of the Eastern question can not keep the Foreign Ministers and Ambassadors from taking a rest. This largely accounts for a cessation even in Austria and Russia of the ardent campaign for a revision of the Bucarest treaty, and the treaty will be the resignation rather than the acceptance of all Europe, which is so tired that it can not work or quarrel any more.

White is the symbol of purity and joy, light and glory. White vestments are therefore appropriately used on feasts of the Blessed Trinity, of our Lord (when we are not directly commemorating his passion and death), of the angels, and of such saints as were confessors of the faith, virgins, penitents and widows. It is also the natural color for all feasts which commemorate the sweet memory of the Immaculate Virgin Mary, the flower of wondrous brightness, the heavenly lily of resplendent beauty, the spotless maiden."

Red symbolizes fire, blood and the self-denial of suffering. Hence it is used as the liturgical color for feast of the Holy Ghost, the Passion of Christ, the martyrs, including the apostles (with the exception of St. Peter).

John, who indeed suffered all the pangs of martyrdom, but whose chief glory is the spotless purity that gained him the special friendship of his Master).

Green, the color of nature in spring, is the fit symbol of hope, and since our hope of gaining eternal life is based on Christ's resurrection, green is the distinctive color of the Sundays between Epiphany and Septuagesima, Peacock and Advent, which have no special festive or sorrowful character.

Purple in the eyes of the church is the type of penance, humility, earnest prayer and intense sorrow. Hence it is prescribed for days of penance, such as Advent, Lent, Vigils, Rogation and Ember days, for the solemn blessings on Candlemas day, Ash Wednesday and Palm Sunday.

Black, the color of sorrow, though not of sorrow without hope, is most fittingly used on Good Friday and in offices for the dead.

A. O. H. PICNIC.

An unusually good representation of the County Board delegates was present at the meeting that Hibernal body on Wednesday evening at Bertrand Hall, when final reports were heard from the different divisions for the reunion and picnic to be given at Phoenix Hill Park next Tuesday, and President William J. Connolly expressed his gratification at the interest being manifested. Walter Cusick, on behalf of Division 1, reported that they were having a nice sale of tickets and that he and President Thomas Tarpay had completed arrangements for the handling of all liquid refreshments and cigars. Mrs. Welsh, Dan O'Keefe and John T. Keane reported that Division 2 would handle the ice cream stand and would have a few volunteer lady workers to assist them. President Hugh Hourigan, of Division 3, stated that he had secured enough workers from his division to handle the box office and gate so that there would be only a short stay on duty for each worker. Thomas Langan, of Division 4, reported that Collins' orchestra had arranged a special programme of Irish dance music which included several old-fashioned quadrilles and break-downs that are always a treat among men old.

President John H. Hennessy, of Division 4, appointed the following Dance Hall Committee: L. J. Meany, Fred Mooney, Henry Malone, H. J. Hennessy, Joseph Kelly, James F. Burns, John Callahan, Leo Reilly and Thomas Farrell. The Ladies' Auxiliary have been rapidly selling their allotted amount of tickets and claim that they will outsell the members of the four men's divisions, which is quite a boast, and judging from this view, the Hibernal crowd is expected to throng the hall on next Tuesday evening, meeting old friends and acquaintances. To quote a regular attendant at A. O. H. affairs, who has been converted to the Hibernal, "It seems that everyone knows everyone else at Hibernal gatherings and that more sincere friendships are witnessed than at any other like affair." Invitations have been extended to the city and county officials, many having already expressed their intention of being present, in addition to many of the clergy.

HEARTILY WELCOMED.

Rev. Francis Felten and Robert T. Burke, who were elected Grand Chaplain and Grand President of the Y. M. I. Atlantic jurisdiction at Pittsburgh last week; Dan J. Hennessy, who represented Trinity Council, and Mackin Council delegates were given an enthusiastic reception at Mackin's meeting Monday night. Their reports and the addresses of Father Felten, Dr. J. A. Casper and others evoked hearty applause and stimulated a new interest in the Y. M. I. Besides the routine work plans were inaugurated for the anniversary and other celebrations, which indicate that there will be lively times at the club house during the fall months. A notable event will be the reception and entertainment in honor of the Grand officers, delegates to the convention and the three Falls City councils, arrangements for which are now under way.

CUSICK THE TAILOR.

Martin J. Cusick, the well known merchant tailor, has secured nice quarters in the new Stark building, Fourth and Walnut, where he will have a formal opening and exhibition of his goods for men's wear. Since his youth Martin Cusick has been identified with the tailoring trade of Louisville and his reputation as a cutter is nation-wide. For some years past he has been head of the firm of Cusick & Kraemer, which has been dissolved by mutual consent. In his new quarters he is certain to continue his large and successful business.

WILL MAKE GOOD.

The greater part of the time of the meeting of Division 1, A. O. H., Tuesday night, was taken up with the Hibernal reunion and picnic to be given at Phoenix Hill Park next Tuesday. President Tarpay occupied the chair and announced the duties assigned the members of Division 1, who responded that they would be there and make good. Vice President Daniel McCarthy reported the County Board proceedings and urged the delegates to be present at the meeting to be held Wednesday night at Bertrand Hall. When the routine business had been transacted interesting talks were made by Treasurer Thomas Keenan and Secretary Walter Cusick and Joe Farrell, who pointed out the opportunity offered Division 1 and called upon all members to lend their efforts to make the reunion a success. Chairman Cleary again had no claim to present, leaving a nice sum to be placed in the treasury.

GARDEN PARTY AND SUPPER.

The ladies of St. Brigid's parish will give a two day's garden party next Tuesday and Wednesday on the church grounds, Illegburn and Baxter avenue. They will also serve an old-fashioned supper on both evenings from 5 to 8 o'clock in the basement of the new church, and have prepared a bill of fare that is sure to please the inner man. In addition to the supper there will be a fine programme of amusements

CATHOLIC SCRIPTURES.

If there are any who really think that the Catholic church forbids its members to read the Bible, let them ask at any Catholic bookseller's for a Catholic Bible. Perhaps they are unaware that the Bible has been transmitted to them by the monastic copyists of the ages before the printing press; that the church has always striven to preserve the purity of the text and to encourage Biblical studies; that Catholic vernacular versions preceded the Protestant, and that selections from the Scriptures are read in church in the vernacular. Catholic editions must also have the approval of a Bishop as a safeguard against errors of translation and comment.

FOLLOW THIS ADVICE.

It will soon be school time. The vacation days will be over in less than two weeks. The serious matter of seeing to the education of the hearts and minds of boys and girls, young men and young women, will confront parents and guardians. Don't make the mistake of letting any consideration tempt you to send those in your care to a non-Catholic school. In our day and age, where and how and by whom a child is educated is more important than ever. Send them where their hearts and souls will get consideration as well as their mental development. This is the advice given by one of our exchanges, and it would be profitable to Catholics if they followed it in spirit and letter.

NO CATHOLIC PARTY.

Archbishop Kenne, of Dubuque, speaking on Sunday at the Federation convention in Milwaukee, declared that Catholics have no intention whatever to form a political!

We have no friends to reward and its enemies to punish, so as to make us flock by ourselves in the pursuit of self interests. We do not desire to be separated from the great body of American citizens. We are free to be Democrats, Republicans or Progressives, every one according to his own convictions, and we are perfectly free to follow out any purely political principle or policy now before the American people without let or hindrance from anybody. In the few matters which involve faith or morals we should be guided by Catholic principles, but in the wide field of public affairs entirely secular every Catholic may do and vote as he himself thinks to be best for the public welfare. We want no Catholic party, no denominational party of any kind. We Americans should not split up on religious lines. The constitution requires that there shall be no religious test for public office. The religious line therefore should not be drawn for or against any one. The question to be asked about candidates should be these only: Is he competent? Is he trustworthy? Whether he is a Baptist or a Presbyterian, a Mason or a Knight Templar, a member of the B'nai B'rith or a member of the K. C. should not be asked. The principles of civil and religious liberty should be observed and enjoyed by all American citizens.

SENSIBLE.

Miss Minnie Bronson, noted for her womanly sense, discussing the question, "Is woman suffrage a healthy thought?" expresses the belief that a large proportion of those who advocate woman suffrage do so because they regard it as part of a general political progress, the last stage in a democratic form of government, and to any one who does not allow herself to think what is involved in the assertion that woman is entitled to the franchise because man has secured it this view seems sufficient for a whole hearted support of the cause. But before such a stupendous governmental change as woman suffrage is accepted as a part of progress and democracy it is wise to determine first whether it is progressive in a beneficent sense of the word, whether it may not be diversing instead of progressing, even though it may seem to be merely the extension of a part already tried. Also if a political principle, whether democratic or not, carried to its logical conclusion, lands women in a state of society which would not be a good state of society, then the principle, even if democratic, had better not be carried to such a conclusion. In other words, conferring political power on women in the

BUSINESS TRAINING.

Creager's Business School, Second and Breckinridge, though not an old school, takes rank with Louisville's most proficient educational institutions. Parents who have sons or daughters seeking a business education will find here taught the latest and most widely approved methods. Prof. Creager offers courses in bookkeeping, penmanship, rapid calculation, the adding machine, spelling, shorthand, typewriting, correspondence, filling, letter-paper work, duplicating, and other commercial subjects. Pupils may take all or as many of these subjects as desired, and have the privilege of paying monthly without being bound by contracts. Creager's graduates have attained conspicuous positions in the business community, and their success is that school's highest recommendation. Prof. Creager has prepared for a considerable enrollment this season and will conduct both day and night sessions throughout the year.

Miss Katherine Sullivan, of this city, and Miss Helen Gibbs, of New Albany, have been honor guests at a number of social affairs at Frankfort, where they have been spending a couple of weeks.

Mrs. William Wolfenberger and daughter, Misses Birdie May and Margaret Wolfenberger, 734 South Twenty-fourth street, have returned from Bowling Green, where they have been spending the summer.

Among the sojourners at Grayson Springs the past week were Sheriff A. M. Emmer, A. M. Emmer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Houllahan and Misses Margaret and Ethel Gordon, Mary Egan and Josephine Boarman, all of Louisville.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Nicholas Gathof and son, Marshall Gathof, who have been spending the summer at Cassa Blanca, the beautiful country home of Mrs. Charles E. Marshall, on the Kentucky river, are expected to return to the city not later than September 1.

KEEFE AS HOST.

The Louisville and New Albany delegates to the Grand Council convention of the Y. M. C. A. held at Pittsburgh last week, are fond of their praise of P. H. Keefe, former Grand President, who did the honors for the visitors and say that they were entertained every minute during their stay and personally escorted them to the great Helman plant, Forbes Field, hall park and other places of interest, and the slogan of the local hoice is that nothing is too good for Keefe when he visits Louisville. Dr. James Casper, who was one of the delegates from Mackin Council, states that before his next trip out of town he intends to join the A. O. H., as his experiences in Pittsburgh convinced him that the Hibernians are the first word in hospitality.

GOOD WOMAN GONE.

Mrs. Martin Doolan, one of the oldest residents of Limerick and a pioneer member of the Dominican church, died Wednesday evening at the family residence, 719 West St. Catherine street, after a short illness. Beloved by her neighbors and fortified by the sacraments of the church, of which she was a faithful member, Mrs. Doolan passed to her eternal reward after a well spent Christian life, mourned by the many who knew her. Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. John J. Toomey, Mrs. John C. Dell and Miss Mary Doolan. The funeral took place from St. Louis Bertrand's church yesterday morning at 8:30, with interment in St. Louis cemetery.

INTERESTED IN PICNIC.

Division 3, A. O. H., held a largely attended meeting last Monday evening with President Hugh Hourigan in the chair. Much interest was manifested in the reunion and picnic to be given by the order at Phoenix Hill Park next Tuesday, and the following list of representatives from Division 3 will have charge of the office and gate: John P. Price, John G. Heasman, Thomas Noone, P. T. Sullivan, John J. Flesion, Jr., Thomas Stevens and Hugh Hourigan.

The investigating committee reported favorable on two candidates and three applications for membership were received.

FONTAINE FERRY FEATURES.

The great annual vaudville bill, the swimming pool, free open air band concerts and other features continue to draw large crowds daily to Fontaine Ferry Park. Homecoming vacationists are thronging this popular pleasure resort and augmenting the attendance. Manager Bilek will make the closing weeks the best of the most successful season the Ferry has ever experienced.

FORESTRY.

The value of the work the Government has been doing for the preservation of the national forests is becoming generally known and appreciated. Twenty-two States, including Hawaii, now employ State foresters.

GOES TO NEBRASKA.

Slater Mary Raymond, of the Dominican order, who has been here during the vacation period, left Tuesday for Hastings, Neb., where she taught school last year. Before entering the convent Slater Mary Raymond was Miss Anna Hines and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Hines, of South Sixth street, where many of her girl friends called on her during her stay.

LAWN FETE.

Monday and Tuesday evenings there will be a lawn fete on the church grounds. Twenty-seventh and Chestnut, for the benefit of St. Charles Borromeo church, of which the Rev. Charles P. Raffo is pastor. The ladies of the congregation will serve supper each evening from 5 to 8 o'clock. Those who attend will certainly spend an enjoyable evening.

LOOK OUT FOR THEM.

The Kentucky Irish American will again call to the attention of its readers that any person or persons who go around soliciting alms for charitable purposes should have credentials from the Bishop or Vicar General granting them permission to do so. Several homes have been visited recently by solicitors whose representations remain unverified.

MIDSUMMER FESTIVAL.

The ladies of the Altar Society of St. James church will give a midsummer festival on the grounds of Lawrence Kellner next Wednesday afternoon and evening, with euchre and lotto in the afternoon at 3 and in the evening at 9. An elegant Dutch supper will be served throughout the afternoon and evening. The

PRIOR ON VACATION.

Very Rev. Father T. S. McGovern, prior of St. Louis Bertrand's church, left Monday evening on a visit to his mother in New York City, where he expects to remain for about ten days.

FROM OVER THE POND.

Leo Hennegan, of Bradford, England, arrived in Louisville the first of the week and is the guest of his cousin, Col. Joe P. McGinn, 513 West Chestnut street. He is a young man and has a number of other relatives whom he will visit while here.

BURKE OUT AGAIN.

J. Hunter Burke, the attorney, is able to be out again after a four weeks' illness of appendicitis, though still rather weak from the effects of the operation performed at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital.

SOJOURNING AT MARTINSVILLE.

Roger Nohalty, leader of the Democracy in the West End, left Wednesday for Martinsville, Ind., where he will enjoy a two weeks' season of rest and recreation.

READ FIRST MASS.

The Rev. Father John P. Stoesser, a native of New Albany and a nephew of Jacob and Herman Fein, of that city, who has just been ordained for the Catholic priesthood, celebrated his first mass last Sunday in St. Aloysius church, Chicago. Jacob Fein and his brother, the Rev. Father H. Fein, of Armstrong, Ind., went to Chicago to be present and receive the young priest's blessing.

DOWN IN ALABAMA.

James Riley, Will O'Keefe and William J. Hines left Sunday for Mobile, Ala., where they will be employed for a couple of weeks on tariff reports for the Interstate Commerce Commission. In keeping with the sentiment of the popular song, they left on "The Midnight Choo-Choo That Leaves for Alabama."

PLAN GREAT STATE FAIR.

Chairman J. W. Newman and Secretary J. L. Dent have issued the programme for the Kentucky State Fair, to be held in Louisville on September 15 to 20. From the number of entries already received, and the interest manifested throughout the State this will be the greatest and most successful fair ever held in Kentucky. Every day and night has been made special, and Friday, September 19, will be Irish-American night, with William J. O'Hearn as chairman.

COLONELS GO AWAY.

After this afternoon's game with Indianapolis the Louisville team will begin practically another swing around the whole circuit, with the exception of three games at home on September 2, 3 and 4 with Toledo. Tomorrow the Colonels play in Toledo, going from there to Columbus and Indianapolis in turn, then comes the three games at home and then visit to Kansas City, Milwaukee, Minneapolis and St. Paul in succession, this being their last trip abroad, they then coming home September 19 to play their final series with the four Western clubs. Milwaukee closing the season here September 29. It is practically a certainty that the Colonels will finish in the first division, this being a pleasing reversal from the last three years, and Owner Wetherell has more than made good with the fans, who have witnessed a high class article of ball by a team that did not quit until the last man was out, and the appreciation of the fans has been shown by their splendid attendance, which will compare favorably with cities of the major leagues with even larger populations.

GRATIFYING STATISTICS.

Several gratifying facts regarding the condition of Ireland are contained in the report of the Registrar-General for Ireland for 1912. They are stated as follows:

Lowest annual death rate for Ireland since 1871, viz., 16.46 per 1,000. Lowest annual death rate from tubercular disease on record, viz., 2.15 per 1,000. Increase of 1,102 in population in the middle of 1912, there being 1,102 more births than deaths and emigrants during the year. Decrease in infant mortality from 94 per 1,000 births in 1911 to 86 per 1,000 in 1912. This is the lowest infant mortality recorded for Ireland. The marriage rate in Ireland during 1912 was 5.31 per 1,000 of the population, being a decrease of 0.04 compared with 1911; the birth rate was 23 per 1,000 of the population, being 0.2 lower than that of the preceding year. The percentage of persons who married under age is far below the corresponding percentage in England and Scotland.

DOING HEROINE'S WORK.

The Hon. Alberta Brodrick, sister of Viscount Middleton, is doing a heroine's work among the paupers of Kerry. She is living in a district twenty odd miles from the railroad and unpreserved with a hospital. Some time ago she began the construction of a hospital, but although she sold her own furniture, china and jewelry she had to stop operations for lack of funds. She made a public appeal for money, which has now enabled her to resume her work. Unlike some organizers who live on the fat of the land through their charitable operations, Miss Brodrick has reduced her living expenses to the smallest possible sum.

HERO TO BE HONORED.

Rev. James F. McNary, pastor of St. Mary's church, Hamilton, Ohio, is among those recommended by the Ohio Humane Society for medals because of heroic conduct during the flood last March.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The National Board convened Wednesday at Atlantic City.

1. Our last report was that they are improving and hope to be at the reunion next Tuesday.

With all the auxiliary members working for the coming reunion, its success is doubly assured.

Our order has been fortunately free from illness among its members during the recent heated weather.

The Hibernians and Ladies' Auxiliary of Portland, Ore., will gather tomorrow at Crystal Lake Park for their annual reunion.

County and division officers should assist County President Welsh in the work of compiling the history of the order in Kentucky.

Division 7 of Minneapolis will give a literary entertainment and Irish dancing contest for the benefit of the Pro-Cathedral fund.

For the purpose of swelling their building fund the Hibernians of Manchester, N. H., will hold a grand carnival the last week in October.

Rev. Peter A. Butler, of Sligo, was given a farewell reception by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Providence, R. I., before his departure for Ireland. Every division can "boost" its treasury by the sale of tickets for the Phoenix Hill reunion. This is an opportunity offered all members to do something for the order.

Hibernians of Rice County, Minn., had a successful harvest festival at Shieldsaville. Celtic sports and games, baseball game and horse races featured the programme.

Souix City employers of men of Irish birth or extraction gave them a half holiday so that there might be a large attendance at the Hibernian celebration at Riverside Park.

Members of Division 1 had a hearty greeting for Martin J. Gavir on his return from French Lick Springs, where he spent two weeks and greatly benefited his health.

Hibernians throughout the city will regret to learn of the reported illness of Thomas Shelley, a pioneer member of the order, and Thomas Lawler, former Treasurer of Division

Division 1 of New Albany held its annual picnic Wednesday at Glenwood Park. With euchar, dancing and other amusements features there was a large attendance and good time for everybody.

Hudson county, which includes Jersey City, has twenty-six divisions. New Jersey Hibernians concur with the German-American Alliance for the formation of a State organization that will include all the Irish-American and German-American societies throughout the State.

Misses Katie Nolan, Fannie Kennedy, Maggie Hourigan, Bertha Kling, Mary Corcoran and Mrs. Dan Dougherty and Mrs. James Bennett, of the Ladies' Auxiliary, will form the Executive Committee from that society for the Hibernian reunion. They are doing effective work and some surprises may be looked for.

The O'Dea history of the order will be a most valuable publication. The intention is to have a complete record of the order in every State in the Union from the time first founded until the present date. This is a great work, but Mr. O'Dea is equal to the task. Officers and members can greatly assist him by furnishing data and statistics.

CLOSES PICNIC SEASON.

The people of St. Francis of Assisi parish are busy preparing for the all-day picnic, the last of the season, to be given on September 3 on the spacious grounds surrounding their church on the Bardstown road, near Douglas boulevard. There will be games and races, also a fish pond to amuse the children, an apron booth, candy wheel and other attractions for the grown people. An excellent dinner and a good chicken supper will be served by the ladies of the parish, who have the reputation of serving meals on such occasions that are unsurpassed. All kinds of refreshments will be served and music will enliven the occasion. Admission will be free and everybody and their family will be welcome. The Jefferson street and Bardstown road cars pass the grounds.

THINITY COUNCIL.

Thinity Council had a good meeting Monday night, and the members present manifested interest and enthusiasm when C. Edward Mueller reported the proceedings of the Annual Jurisdiction convention held in Pittsburgh. In the absence of Vic Ecker and James B. Kelly the meeting was called to order and presided over by Vice President Henry Dries. Several interesting reports were submitted, especially that of the committee having charge of the Mammoth Cave excursion, which predicted that this will eclipse all previous trips in point of attendance and management. A meeting of this committee was called for Wednesday night, when arrangements were concluded for refreshments on the special train and all minor details perfected.

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Old Jupiter Pluvius interfered with the schedule of the Catholic Baseball League last Sunday, causing the stopping of all games after one or two innings had been played. Including tomorrow's games only four scheduled games remain, and it appears from the present outlook that Capt. Clegg's Champions will repeat last year's performance in capturing the pennant flag, their consistent playing entitling them to that honor. The four leaders will meet tomorrow and the result may make quite an upset in the first division, while the same state of affairs exists in the second division. The Champions will play the Kentucky Oaks, Shamrocks will meet the Spring Banks, these four being first division teams, while the Bruins vs. Athletics and the Hepburns vs. Cadets will fight for honors in the lower half of the standing, all games to be played at Shawnee Park. Tickets are being disposed of rapidly for the all star game and field meet which is to be held under the auspices of the Twin City League on Sunday, August 31, at Eclipse Park, and many of the players are now getting into condition to compete for the prizes to be awarded the winners in the class for all around events. The standing of the league to date:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Champions	12	4	.750
Spring Banks	10	5	.666
Kentucky Oaks	10	6	.625
Shamrocks	7	8	.466
Bruins	7	9	.437
Hepburns	5	9	.357
Cadets	5	9	.357
Athletics	4	10	.377

MAMMOTH CAVE EXCURSION.

Trinity Council, Y. M. I., has completed all details for the greatest excursion on Sunday, August 31, that ever visited the famous Mammoth Cave. The train will leave Union Station, Tenth and Broadway, at 9 o'clock in the morning and arrive home at 10:15 at night. The cost of the round trip has been placed at $5.50. This includes railroad fare, an excellent dinner at the hotel and cave fees. Both the L. and N. railroad and the Mammoth Cave management are lending Trinity Council every assistance to make this a memorable and delightful excursion. Many parties have been formed and there is brisk demand for tickets which can be secured at the L. and N. ticket office. The committee has made special arrangements for refreshments on the train returning and guarantee all a time to be pleasantly remembered.

RECENT DEATHS.

Henry Nieder, Sr., one of Louisville's most widely known German Catholic business men and a lifelong member of St. Martin's church, died Sunday morning at his home, 803 East Broadway. Since his boyhood he had conducted the grocery and hardware business a: Shely and Broadway, and for over thirty years had been a member of the St. Joseph's Orphan Society and the St. Martin's Men's Society. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Krupp Nieder; three sisters, Mrs. H. Budde, Mrs. Henry Jansen and Mrs. J. C. Krichdorfer; and four sons, Frank, Henry, Jr., William and George Nieder. The funeral was held Tuesday morning, Rev. Father Olibe being the celebrant of the solemn high mass of reunion.

St. Ann's church lost one of its old and respected members when Joseph Schoenauer, 1302 South Seventh street, passed away Monday evening. Deceased was a successful blacksmith and for twenty-four years conducted a shop at Seventh and Hill streets. He is survived by his wife and three sons, Joseph, George and Carl Schoenauer, and one brother.

The funeral services were held Thursday morning with solemn mass of requiem at St. Ann's, the church being filled with mourning friends and relatives.

GAYETY THEATER.

The Gayety Theater, which will be the popular play house here, will open its season tomorrow afternoon with "The Call of the Heart" as its initial offering. This play, as its title indicates, is a story of love and devotion, with a message, perhaps a lesson, for every father, mother, daughter, brother and sweetheart. A company of distinctive ability, each member carefully selected to fit the requirements of his or her role, has been assembled to surround John Nicholson, who is being featured in the character of Lord Everlow. Mr. Nicholson has had a wide experience as a dramatic actor in sterling productions, put out by the foremost managers, and as Lord Everlow he has a part which fits him to perfection.

Able co-operating with him for the success of the play is Miss Ann Hamilton, whose convincing methods as Lady Everlow win her sympathy from all. Other members of the cast include Corwin Luskmoor, Clarence Bellair, C. B. Waters, Helen Aubrey, Wells Playter and Billie Shay, Matinees during the week will be on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

CLOSING SUMMER FESTIVAL.

All is in readiness for the final closing of the summer festival and fair for the benefit of Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, which will be held next Wednesday on the hospital grounds, and a cordial invitation is extended to all friends of the good sisters and their most worthy institutions to attend. Numerous committees have been working energetically in the preparation for this festival and a successful outcome is hoped for by them all.

The many handsome and valuable articles which were awarded and undisposed of at the June festival will be distributed this day.

In the afternoon there will be a euchar and lotto games and in the evening an excellent warm supper will be served.

EUCHRE AND LOTTO.

The Holy Family Society of St.

Van's church will give a euchar and lotto next Tuesday, August 26, afternoon and evening, and refreshments will be served by the ladies of the parish.

The euchar will be given in the school hall, Seventh and Davies avenue, the cars of the Sixth street car line passing the door.

In the afternoon there will be a lotto and many handsome prizes will be given and those purchasing tickets will be given the choice of playing euchar or lotto.
